For Apr. 26 Lok Sabha election voting day

Process of setting up counting centre begins

An outside view of Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women, Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli) which will be the main counting centre for Mysuru-Kodagu LS Constituency.

Mysuru, Apr. 7 (RK&BCT)- With just 19 days left for voting for Lok Sabha (LS) election on Apr. 26, the Mysuru District Administration has initiated preparations for the counting of votes that will take place on June 4.

As a preliminary measure, Maharani's College of Commerce and Management for Women, Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli) has been designated as the main counting centre and the primary strong room for the Mysuru-Kodagu LS Constituency. It is currently undergoing preparation in accordance with the guidelines issued by the Election Commission of India.

In all, 11 strong rooms, (mustering centres) have been established to securely store Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) and Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT) machines that have already been brought from the EVM Warehouse at Siddharthanagar. In Mysuru, specifically, 11 strong rooms have been readied to correspond with the district's jurisdiction, covering 11 Assembly segments.

All 11 mustering centres have been equipped with dedicated strong rooms, where the machines have been meticulously deposited booth-wise and arranged according to their serial numbers. Within city limits, specific arrangements have been made for each Constituency.

Colour-coded ID cards this time

To streamline access and identification at the counting centre, political party agents will be given ID cards of various colours, each corresponding to a specific Constituency. This colour-coded system aims to simplify identification and entry access, ensuring that only authorised individuals are allowed entry.

Strict monitoring will be enforced to prevent unauthorised access, with measures in place to prevent party agents from entering counting rooms designated for other Constituencies. Only individuals with valid ID cards matching the designated colour for their Constituency will be permitted entry.

T. Narasipur sizzles at 40.1 degrees; no respite from heat for Mysuru

Maximum temperature is expected to gradually increase by 2-4 degrees Celsius

Mysuru, Apr. 7 (BCT)- T. Narasipur in Mysuru district, registered a scorching 40.1 degrees Celsius yesterday (Apr. 6), serving as a stark reminder of the unforgiving heatwave gripping the region this summer.

The Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC) released a High-Temperature bulletin, revealing that besides Mysuru, temperatures ranging from 40.1 to 42 degrees Celsius scorched districts like Ramanagara, Mandya, Chamarajanagar, Uttara Kannada, Haveri, Davanagere, Shivamogga, Chitradurga, Chikkaballapur, Chikkamagalur, Bengaluru Urban Hassan and Bengaluru Rural.

Meanwhile, amid the relentless heatwave, Bengaluru residents are grappling with a severe water crisis, prompting many to seek brief respites away from the city's scorching temperatures. Typically, destinations like Mysuru, Kodagu and Ooty serve as favourite short getaways. However, this year, the intense heat in Mysuru and Kodagu is compelling the IT city crowd to remain in Bengaluru.

Furthermore, in a bid to evade the oppressive heat, leaders from various political parties have adjusted their election campaign schedules accordingly. Nowadays, public meetings are convened before 11 am and after 4 pm, when temperatures begin to abate.

Indoor gatherings have been scheduled between 12 noon and 4 pm, reserving the peak heat hours for strategic planning sessions to formulate election strategies.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

What else is there to think about? Money is power. Everybody is thinking of money, don't be worried. Even those who are thinking of the other world... they have different coins, but they too are thinking of money.

Your saints are also thinking of money — they call it virtue. By virtue, you can purchase a better house in heaven, a better car. A few people are not that greedy. They are thinking only of the money that is current in this world. Others are greedier, they think of the other world. And if you are thinking of virtue to attain to paradise, what is it except money?

A man stops thinking about money only when he starts living in the present. Money is the future; money is security for the future. If you have a good bank balance, your future is safe. If you have a good character, even life after death is safe.

The whole world is thinking in terms of money. Those who think in terms of power politics are thinking in terms of money, because money is nothing but a symbol for power. That's why you can go on accumulating more and more money, but the desire never leaves you to have still more — because the thirst for power knows no end.

And people are thirsty for power because deep down they are empty.

They want to stuff that emptiness with something — it may be money, power, prestige, respectability, character, virtue. Anything will do.

There are only two types of people in the world: those who try to stuff their inner emptiness, and those very rare precious beings who try to see the inner emptiness. Those who try to stuff it remain empty, frustrated. They go on collecting garbage; their whole life is futile and fruitless. Only the other kind, the very precious people who try to look into their inner emptiness without any desire to stuff it, become meditators.

Meditation is looking into your emptiness, welcoming it, enjoying it, being one with it, with no desire to fill it — there is no need, because it is already full. It looks empty because you don't have the right way of seeing it. You see it through the mind; that is the wrong way. If you put the mind aside and look into your emptiness, it has tremendous beauty, it is divine, it is overflowing with joy. Nothing else is needed. —Osho in The Times of India

Contested 238 elections, yet to win one

Mettur: K. Padmarajan has been dubbed the "Election King" after participating in 238 political elections and losing every time.

The 65-year-old repairman from Tamil Nadu has participated in hundreds of elections over the past three decades and spent thousands of rupees on registration fees. The closest he has ever come to winning an election was in 2011 when he ran for the General Assembly in the town of Mettur and got 6,273 votes. He was way behind the winner – he got over 75,000 votes – but it gave him hope that he could one day win. That day is yet to come, but Padmarajan recently pointed out that winning is the secondary goal. Resilience and accepting defeat are key and no one is better at it than him.

Woman with Noah's Syndrome had kept 159 cats

Paris: A 68-year-old French woman diagnosed with Noah's Syndrome has been given a one-year suspended sentence for keeping 159 cats and 7 dogs in her 80sqm (861sqft) apartment.

The unnamed woman and her 52-year-old male partner got into a dispute with neighbors in their Nice apartment building because of the mess and filth caused by their dozens of pets. Police were eventually called and the state of the woman's apartment shocked them. There was animal excrement everywhere, over 150 cats and seven dogs, as well as at least two dead cats and two dogs in the bathroom.

Following a psychiatric evaluation, the woman was diagnosed with 'Noah's Syndrome', which is described as a psychological need to care for and save animals, even when you are incapable of doing so. To prevent her from falling victim to her condition again, a judge issued a permanent ban on keeping pets.

Origin of Dasara Exhibition

Sir,

I wish to say a few words anent the article 'Of safe exhibitions and old memories!' by Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, which appeared in Star of Mysore dated Mar. 31, 2024.

The learned doctor says about the origin of Dasara Exhibition: It was started in the year 1880 by Sri Chamaraja Wadiyar X, the 23rd Maharaja of Mysore, firstly as a trade and agriculture fair, which later became an expo to showcase the developments, industrial production and handicrafts of the State, to the people.

In the first place in 1880, the Maharaja Chamaraja Wadiyar was still a minor and the administration of the Kingdom was still with the British Commissioners! The rendition of power took place only in 1881.

A Durbar for formally effecting this transfer was held in the Palace at Mysore on the morning of 25th March 1881. Lord Ripon was not able to be personally present at the Durbar and under his instructions, the Right Honourable W.P. Adams, Governor of Madras, represented the Viceroy on behalf of the Government of India.

As far as the Dasara Exhibition itself is concerned, it has a chequered history.

An Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition, the first of its kind, was held in Mysore in October 1888, immediately after the close of the Dasara festivities. The aims of an Exhibition were stated by L. Ricketts, the President of the Exhibition Committee, to gauge the resources of the country, to stimulate agricultural and industrial pursuits by disseminating useful information, to create a healthy emulation and secure excellence in the quality of products and to enhance their value by increasing the demand for them.

It was formally opened to the public by His Highness the Maharaja, on the morning of 16th October 1888, in the presence of a large and distinguished assembly. The exhibition sheds covered an area of 70,000 square feet, erected in the West end of Mysore in Gordon Park (a prominent site having been selected midway between the New Public Offices and the Oriental Library).

They were constructed of casuarina and areca poles, covered by bamboo mats and plaited coconut leaves. The main entrance consisted of a covered archway supported on either side by large castellated towers representing the front of an ancient castle. In one of the Halls was a unique collection of rare and costly articles, graciously lent by His Highness the Maharaja, silver and gold caskets, Palace table ornaments, arms, jewellery and scene paintings — they naturally attracted a large crowd of visitors.

There were more than 30,000 exhibits. The total number of awards amounted to 44 medals, 14 diplomas, 634 monetary prizes and 129 honourable mentions.

In addition to the above, commemorative medals were distributed to Deputy Commissioners of Districts and the Collector of the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore. The cost of the Exhibition was Rs. 21,782-3-1 (Rs.-anna-kasu) and total receipts were only Rs. 5,000-2-11 (Rs.-anna-kasu) and thus the kingdom incurred a net cost of Rs.16,782-0-2!

It is said, the Police arrangements were good and the absence of theft reflected the credit on that body. Every precaution was taken against an outbreak of fire and no accident marred the success of the exhibition.

The above narrative also exposes the hollowness of the present Dasara Exhibition and its avowed purpose, its venue and a superfluous authority which is nothing but a political gratis by the Government of the day! It is difficult to agree with the learned doctor about the necessity of bullying the Exhibitors to a single venue in a democracy.

Permission must for new borewells: DC

Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra chairing a Disaster Management Committee meeting held at DC office auditorium in the city recently, as ADC P. Shivaraju, ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, MCC Commissioner Dr. M.M. Madhu, DHO Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy and other officials look on.

Mysuru, Apr. 7 (TRR)- Expressing serious concerns about the prevailing drinking water crisis in the district, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra has directed the district officials to take immediate steps to ensure drinking water to 108 villages of the district which are facing acute shortage of drinking water.

Dr. Rajendra was speaking after chairing a Disaster Management Committee meeting held at DC office auditorium, yesterday.

"Engineers of Mysuru City Corporation, local bodies, Gram Panchayats (GP) and Rural Drinking Water Supply and Sanitation Department, must take immediate steps to preserve, manage and ensure repair works of water sources in their respective jurisdictions and ensure water supply to people and cattle," said DC at the meeting.

Observing that the number of new borewells are increasing in the district and stressing the need to restrict their numbers, Dr. Rajendra said that henceforth, prior permission must be obtained 25 days before from GPs and local bodies to dig a borewell and directed officials to keep a close watch on new borewells.

"It is also mandatory that private borewells must not be allowed within 500 metres of public borewells. District officials must take measures to close defunct borewells in their respective jurisdictions and avoid the repeat of Vijayapura like incidents. In case any mishaps happen because of the negligence of officials to close the defunct borewells, the respective official will be held responsible and will face action," warned DC Dr. Rajendra at the meeting.

DC also directed Bank officials not to take coercive steps while recovering dues from borewell owners since there is drought in the State.

Dr. Rajendra also asked officials to ensure that Dry Fodder is not moved out to other states.

Zilla Panchayat Rural Drinking Water Supply and Sanitation Department Executive Engineer Ranjit who spoke at the meeting said that the department has hired nine private borewells at places where there is shortage of drinking water to provide drinking water and water is also being supplied through tankers on occasions like festivals,

He informed the meeting that there is water shortage in the 9 wards of Periyapatna town and drinking water is being supplied to the residents of those areas through tankers.

District Health Officer Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy informed the meeting that an incident of Cholera has been reported in the district and the department officials have inspected the surrounding 600 houses and are creating awareness among the public to keep their house premises clean.

Joint Director of Animal Husbandry Department Dr. M. Nagaraj told the meeting the district has a Dry Fodder stock which is expected to last for the next 3-4 weeks. He also informed that the department has already distributed 36,000 Dry Fodder kits and the department has received additional 36,000 kits which will also be distributed soon.

ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, Additional DC P. Shivaraju and other district level officials were present.

'Delay in drought relief to Karnataka not intentional'

Bengaluru, Apr. 7 (Agencies)- Amid intense mudslinging over the delay in release of drought relief funds to the State from the Central Government, Union Finance Minister (FM) Nirmala Sitharaman has clarified that the delay was not intentional as the Centre was awaiting permission from Election Commission of India (ECI) to conduct High Power Committee meeting.

Addressing a press conference at the media office of State BJP in Malleswaram here yesterday, Nirmala said "By the time Union Ministries of Agriculture and Home verified the reports submitted by inter-Ministerial team of Officers, who had conducted a study of drought situation in the State, the elections were declared. Hence it was not possible to conduct a High Power Committee meeting without the permission of ECI."

It's not just about Karnataka, even the proposals to allot funds under Disaster Relief Funds for Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Sikkim, Mizoram, Assam and several other States are also pending before the High Power Committee. A decision in this regard shall be taken only after seeking the consent of ECI for the meeting, added Nirmala.

Nirmala Sitharaman

There is no provision for distribution of relief under National Disaster Response Fund (NDRF), without any reference to compensation, assistance and interim relief. While the subsidy is given for improvement of situation and input subsidy by the Central Government, clarified Nirmala, who read the contents of the Act.

While the State Government should carry out the task of providing emergency relief. The Centre even contributes its share of instalment for State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) to provide the relief, with two instalments of Rs. 629 crore released to Karnataka in advance. So, there cannot be truth in the allegations of disparity in releasing drought relief funds being made by the State Congress Government, said Nirmala.

She also lambasted Congress party for being adept in levelling false allegations. The 15th Finance Commission had submitted an interim report recommending a special package for several States including Karnataka. However, there were no such recommendations in the final report and neither any of the other States are raising such a demand, she added.

There was neither any recommendation for providing assistance to meet investment expenses of the States. However, keeping with the aspirations of PM Modi, the Centre has advanced interest-free loan to State Governments for a period of next 50 years. Why isn't the Congress party speaking about this? asked Nirmala.

The PM has responded to the demands of Karnataka and we are hopeful that the people won't lend ears to allegations, she said.

While it is good to hear the slogan 'My Tax My Right,' those raising the slogan lack good intentions. It is unfortunate that, those Congress leaders who are out on bail in cases of financial irregularities have mentioned about investigation agencies in their party manifesto, rued Nirmala Sitharaman.

While T. Narasipur experienced a scorching 40.1 degrees Celsius, the maximum temperature across Mysuru district ranged from 36 to 39.5 degrees Celsius.

According to the weather forecast issued by the Agro-Meteorological Field Unit (AMFU) at the Organic Farming Research Station in Naganahalli, Mysuru, the maximum temperature is expected to gradually increase by 2-4 degrees Celsius over the next five days.

Yesterday, Kodagu saw daytime temperatures ranging from 33 to 36.5 degrees Celsius, while night temperatures ranged between 17.5 degrees Celsius and 20 degrees Celsius. Meanwhile, Mandya endured a similar heatwave, with temperatures peaking at 39.4 degrees Celsius. Chamarajanagar experienced scorching temperatures between 38 and 39.2 degrees Celsius.

As temperatures continue to soar, people are taking refuge indoors and consuming copious amounts of liquids to beat the heat. Observably, there's a marked decline in activity on the roads between 10 am and 3 pm, with many opting to stay indoors during these peak hours of heat.

Roads remain noticeably empty during this time. However, individuals are venturing out only after 4 pm, when the temperature begins to dip, indicating a collective effort to avoid the scorching midday sun.

The KSNDMC has issued crucial advisories to the public, urging them to refrain from venturing out especially between noon and 3 pm. Hydration is emphasised, with individuals encouraged to drink ample water. Furthermore, the advisory stresses the importance of not leaving animals or pets in parked vehicles, instead providing them with shade and ample water to prevent heat-related illnesses.

The deceased has been identified as Vinay (19), son of Nandeesh of Malkundi village. Nandeesh has accused Somashekar, Manu, Vijay and Dinesh of murdering his son. Nandeesh has further stated that on the same day (Apr. 6) afternoon, Dinesh took Vinay on his bike towards Hathwalkatte and he came to know about death of Vinay due to drowning later and has suspected the four youths may have pushed his son Vinay into the water and killed him. The front view of the Vintage Car Museum resembling a tyre.

The allure of vintage cars dates back to the early days of the automobile industry. Enthusiasts as far back as the 1920s recognised the value and significance of preserving antique vehicles for future generations.

The golden era of car collecting in the 1950s and 1960s witnessed a surge in the popularity of vintage vehicles. During this period, they celebrated iconic automobiles from renowned manufacturers such as Mercedes Benz, Morris, Ford, Chevrolet and Cadillac, among others. Classic designs, powerful engines and luxurious interiors captivated the hearts of enthusiasts, fuelling a growing fascination with vintage cars.

Today, most vintage cars can be found in museums. One such museum, showcasing vintage cars from 1925 to the 2008 model, is Payana, the Vintage Car Museum, situated on the outskirts of Mysuru.

The innovatively designed museum showcases a collection of automobiles curated over the last five decades. Situated on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway, the museum features a facade resembling the silhouette of a car tyre. More than just metal, paint and chrome, this museum evokes a sense of nostalgia and admiration, transporting visitors back to a time when automobiles were crafted with care and precision.

The 1949 model of Daimler DE 36 of the United Kingdom used by the erstwhile Mysore King Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar. This car has an 8-cylinder inline engine, 5,460 CC and 4-speed Daimler Fluid Flywheel Transmission with Preselector.

The 1962 model of England make Standard Herald used by Dr. Veerendra Heggade during his student days. This car has a Standard SC 4-Cylinder, 948 CC with 4-speed manual transmission.

Brainchild of Dr. Veerendra Heggade

While travelling from Mysuru, one cannot miss seeing the museum on the right side of the Highway. This museum is the brainchild of Dr. D. Veerendra Heggade, a philanthropist and the Dharmadhikari of Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala in Dakshina Kannada district.

Although the formal inauguration of the museum is pending, Dr. Veerendra Heggade conducted homa and other rituals earlier this month, and the museum opened its doors to visitors on April 1, 2024. On the inaugural day, admission was free, attracting over 900 tourists.

Nestled amidst 23 acres of land, the museum houses 69 cars, ranging from vintage to the latest models, each coming to life with a simple turn of a key. Among the notable exhibits are cars once driven by the erstwhile Mysuru king Sri Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar, Sir C.V. Raman, late film actor Dr. Vishnuvardhan and even the car driven by Dr. Veerendra Heggade during his student days.

The museum boasts spacious galleries that invite visitors to delve into the narratives behind each vintage masterpiece, aiming to cultivate a deeper appreciation for the craftsmanship and engineering brilliance of bygone eras.

Among the notable vintage cars showcased are the Daimler De 36 of 1949, Standard Herald of 1962, Fiat 501 of 1925, Fiat 521 of 1928, Ford Perfect E93A of 1946, Morris Eight Series E of 1948, Buck Series 50 Super Eight of 1947, Citroen Traction Avant 11CV of 1947, Austin A40 Somerset of 1952, Hindustan Landmaster of 1956, Chevrolet Bel Air of 1955, Chevrolet Impala, Studebaker Champion of 1947, Gaz-69 of 1953, Mercedes Benz of 1926, SteyrPuchHaflinger of 1962, Willys Truck 475 of 1958, Morris 15/6 of 1934, Toyota Corolla 1.6 GL of 1990, and Mercedes Benz of 2008, among others.

Diverse tapestry of automotive history

Each vehicle on display offers a fascinating glimpse into the diverse tapestry of automotive history. A significant aspect of the museum is its restoration unit, where vintage cars undergo meticulous restoration from scrap to pristine condition. It comprises mechanical and technical sections for engine restoration, a tinkering section to bring vintage cars back to their original form, and a painting unit where restored vehicles regain their original colours.

The museum premises also feature a restaurant, an open-air theatre and restroom facilities for men, women and individuals with disabilities. Plans are underway to establish a dedicated kids' area shortly.

As visitors embark on a journey through the museum, they are not only treated to an immersive experience of the timeless allure of vintage cars but also gain insight into the evolution of automotive technology. Educational resources and interactive exhibits offer a deeper understanding of the intricacies of automotive engineering and its societal impact.

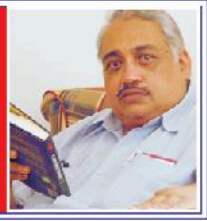
Over a cup of evening Tea



By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

More musings about our Exhibition!

Going by some very interesting feedback that I have been getting over the past one week, my last article, where I discussed what our Dasara Exhibition meant to me in the days of my childhood, seems to have touched the heartstrings of many readers, putting them too in similar nostalgic moods.

There is nothing surprising in this deep and abiding sense of attachment because our city has a very rich heritage where art, culture, music, different kinds of trade and business enterprise, were very actively promoted, thanks to the keen interest our erstwhile royalty had in the well-being of its subjects, over many centuries.

The first responder, as usual, was my close friend, Prof. R. Chandraprakash who needs no introduction to the readers of Star of Mysore because he himself writes articles for the paper quite often. Having not just lived in this city all his life like most other Mysureans, but also having had a very keen sense of observation and concern too, for how the city has been transforming itself from being a sleepy pensioners' paradise to a happening hub at a fast-galloping pace, he can certainly be counted as a very rich resource person, as far as the recent history of the city is concerned.

In his letter to me, he has recounted how our Dasara Exhibition was a show on a very small scale, standing on only a part of the ground adjacent to the Mysore Medical College. It appears it was only much later, during the early sixties, that it was extended Northwards till the point where the Vidyavardhaka First Grade College now stands.

As I remember, this end was where the amusement park was, with its food stalls, merry-go-round, horse riding circuit and Ferris wheel, which although quite small by today's standards, was then most imposing, earning for itself the name of 'Giant Wheel'.

It was perceived as being so big that small children would be dissuaded from taking a ride on it, on the grounds that it would be a very frightening experience for them, from which there would just be no escape midway!

A hand blown glass bird.

But when I finally managed to hitch a ride on it, after many years of pleading and eager waiting, I stepped out of it thinking that I should have taken the ride while I was still young enough to be perhaps frightened by it!

Prof. Chandraprakash recalls how Chandrika Soap from Kerala, which is now a worldwide brand, used to be sold in the exhibition from one of the smallest kiosks there, while Brooke Bond and Lipton, the now two giant brands of tea, used to promote their brew by serving it in pristine white porcelain cups and saucers, at highly subsidised rates to gain customers and a brand following, at which they seem to have succeeded eminently, going by their stature now.

But very sadly, Indian Coffee House which adopted the same strategy, somehow lost the race and has all but disappeared from the beverage scene. Prabhat, Komala and Hamza, the three leading bakeries of that time, used to always occupy the same three island locations, year after year and they used to compete with one another mainly with their cakes, hot puffs and badam milk. Sadly, all three giants have now lost the race for supremacy in the bakery arena, in our city.

The stalls manned by Sikh and Sindhi gentlemen, selling cutlery and kitchen equipment used to be another attraction for me and most other people too. Their owners with their incessant banter, would demonstrate the versatility of their wares and their own prowess, by magically transforming all kinds of vegetables into neatly chopped heaps, to the amazement of the onlookers.

As a newly married husband, in my eagerness to please my wife, I used to stop at these stalls while she herself would be most uninterested in wasting her time there and I would invariably pick up a magic chopper or slicer for her. But although very quickly I discovered that the way to winning a lady's heart did not lie in this futile exercise, it took me a very long time to desist from buying these gadgets, sheerly out of my own fascination for them. The result of my misadventures is that we now have in our home, every kind of kitchen gadget, gathering dust over the years, while sitting in its unopened box!

Another reader, M. A. K. Tanveer has written to me about how he as a child used to be most fascinated by the stall of the Forest Department where one could hear the calls of almost all the denizens of our jungles, while walking through the dark and very real looking canopy that used to be recreated there with real plants and trees.

Just next door would be the stall of the Police Department, where the main attraction would be the Policeman who would stand at attention, almost like a statue for hours on end, in an impressive demonstration of the discipline inculcated by his department. We as children would touch him and even nudge him, only to find him gently swaying, just a wee bit, like a real cardboard statue. Try as much as we could, we would never succeed in getting him to smile, despite all our collective antics!

A stall where a man and his wife would melt glass tubes fashioning birds and later filling them with coloured water, used to be a very favourite stop for me. The duo would do this very deftly by blowing the flame from an ordinary oil lamp with long brass tubes, to melt the glass and shape it to their liking. In a showcase at home, where my mother has still carefully preserved almost all the toys from my childhood, we still have a pair of the long-tailed glass birds that we have bought from that shop, more than sixty years ago!

I used to be so intrigued by the frequent announcement on the public address system at the exhibition about lost children that one day I decided to deliberately lose myself, just to give myself the thrill and honour of hearing my name in such an announcement. I had found out well in advance, the room, adjacent to the main gate, from where these announcements were made and so walked in there with a fake look of anxiety and told the Policeman manning it that I was lost.

Instead of giving me the joy of hearing my name being announced, he gave me a couple of toffees and asked me to sit there and wait for half an hour to see if my parents would come looking for me, failing which he would announce my name. This defeated my plans completely and I left the place discreetly, while he was looking the other way, because there were more interesting and exciting things for a boy of six to do at a fair, in a precious half hour, than sit and do nothing, in the company of a grim Policeman!

Bengaluru, Apr. 7 (Agencies)- Six cases of cholera have been detected in Karnataka out of which five of them were detected in March this year, said Department of Health and Family Welfare Commissioner D. Randeep, here on Friday.

Addressing media persons, Randeep clarified that all cases were 'sporadic' and not an outbreak.

"A total of six cases including two cases in Bengaluru Urban, three cases in Bengaluru Rural and one case in Ramanagara districts have been reported in the State," he said and added that the two each deaths reported in Kalaburagi and Bagalkot were not due to sunstroke but for other medical ailments.

Randeep also added that five beds in district hospitals, two beds in taluk hospitals have been reserved to treat patients suffering from heat waves and said that the department would conduct training to District Nodal Officers, Health Department Staff and ASHA workers apart from issuing notification regarding the precautions to be taken to avoid being affected from heat wave or high temperatures.

"A total of 341 cases of people suffering from soaring temperature, 212 cases of heat cramps and 58 cases of heat exhaustion with no casualties have been reported in the State. The department has also instructed the hospital authorities to procure all necessary medicines to ensure timely treatment of the patients," said Randeep.

Urging people not to get panicked, Randeep asked them to take precautions while consuming water and food outside.

"Diarrhoea and vomiting alone cannot be considered as symptoms of cholera. Instead of getting panicked, people should ensure they consume good quality food and water apart from maintaining hygiene," he said.

Rs. 84 lakh scam at Post-Matric Boys Hostel in Hunsur

Joint Director seizes documents at hostel

Hunsur, Apr. 7 (BS)- In a clear case of fence eating the crop, a warden and staff of Post-Matric Backward Classes Boys Hostel, Hunsur, have usurped the grant of about Rs. 84 lakh by allegedly forging the documents.

The officers in the dock had fudged the documents related to grants sanctioned for about 100 hostel inmates, after evicting them. They had fabricated the biometric record of those hostel inmates and pocketed the grant for four years, till it came to light recently.

Dr. C.K. Jagadish Kumar, Joint Director, Backward Classes Welfare Department, who conducted an inspection in this regard on Friday, has seized the documents related to fake biometric attendance of the hostel inmates.

Four years back about 120 students had taken admissions at this hostel. The warden at that time had recorded the thumb impression of every students by applying wax. The same students were later removed from the hostel, citing reason of cancellation of their admission. However, those involved in the racket had been allegedly using the thumb impression of same hostel inmates daily to record their bio-metric attendance, gobbling a grant of Rs. 1,750 released for each inmate for the last four years amounting to Rs. 84 lakh.

Following a complaint from R. Rakesh Rao, State Director of Maratha Gonduli Samaj, alleging the involvement of Taluk Backward Classes Welfare Department Officer S.S. Suchendra Kumar, Warden S.S. Manjunath and Cooking staff N. Ravichandra in the scam, Dept. Joint Director Dr. C.K. Jagadish, along with District Officer Raghavendra, conducted a surprise inspection at the hostel and seized fake documents.

At the outset, irregularities have occurred at the hostel and a comprehensive report in this regard has been submitted to the Commissioner of the Department and further action is awaited. Following a complaint from the public, I visited the hostel and seized the documents related to fake thumb impression of the students to mark biometric attendance.

Congress has made M. Lakshmana a scapegoat: MLC A.H. Vishwanath

K.R. Nagar, Apr. 7- Maintaining that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah did not care for Vokkaliga community in his long political career, MLC A.H. Vishwanath said that the Congress has made Mysuru-Kodagu candidate M. Lakshmana a scapegoat.

Addressing a joint press meet with former Chief Minister and Mandya BJP-JD(S) coalition candidate H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK), who called on him at his residence in K.R. Nagar yesterday, Vishwanath wondered why CM Siddaramaiah did not field his son Dr. Yathindra from Mysuru-Kodagu LS Constituency if he indeed had confidence of winning the seat.

Asserting that the people will teach a fitting lesson to Siddaramaiah, the MLC called upon the electorate to ensure the victory of Yaduveer from Mysuru-Kodagu and H.D. Kumaraswamy from Mandya LS seats.

Noting that former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda has made his own contributions for the State, Vishwanath said that the BJP and JD(S) have entered into a coalition in the better interests of the country.

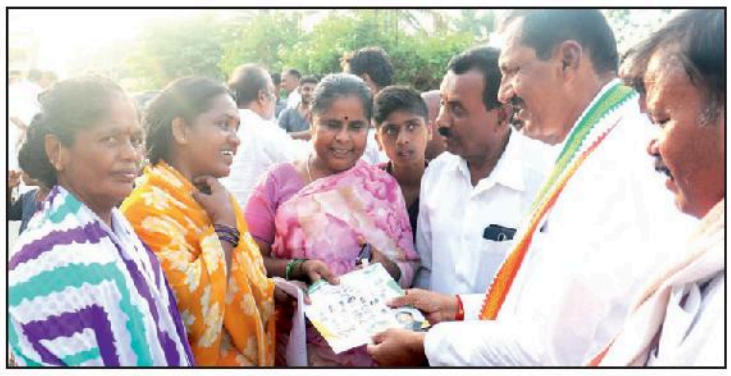
Stressing on the need for making Modi the Prime Minister again for the sake of the country's growth, he said that everyone should set aside their differences and work for the victory of coalition candidates.

Asserting that there are no differences between him and HDK, Vishwanath clarified that he had made some scathing statements only on some ideological issues. He also announced that he would campaign for Kumaraswamy in the LS polls.

Kumaraswamy, who also addressed the press meet, said that Vishwanath was a straight forward politician who often spoke his mind. Recalling that Vishwanath called him over phone asking him to contest from Mandya LS seat, Kumaraswamy said that he was overwhelmed with the affection shown by Vishwanath.

Noting that he has the responsibility of taking the MLC and his son along with him politically, Kumaraswamy stressed on the need for former MLA S.R. Mahesh and Vishwanath to unite BJP and JD(S) party workers at the grass root level for ensuring his victory.

Congress candidate assures voters of excellent service



Mysuru, Apr. 7 (SBD&DM)- Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha Constituency Congress candidate M. Lakshmana told voters that he would guarantee his services for them just like the Congress guarantees which have been implemented in the State.

Speaking during his poll campaign at Alanahalli and Hosahundi villages of Chamundeshwari Assembly segment, Lakshmana appealed the voters to cast their votes in his favour and give him an opportunity to serve them. Asserting that the Congress is a party which takes everyone along with it, he alleged that the BJP was misleading people by making false claims on development.

Accusing the Centre of showing a step motherly attitude towards the State, he underlined the development works by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah when he first became the CM in 2013. He sought the support of the people to take Mysuru forward.

Former MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah said that the Congress was inevitable for the survival of the poor and the middle class. Asking the people to make a comparison between the administration of the current Congress Government and the previous BJP Government, Dr. Yathindra said that the Congress has implemented its pre-poll promises, while on the other hand the BJP's promises were a bundle of lies, which were not implemented. He also emphasised why the people should vote for the Congress Party in the better interests of the nation.

Support me for bringing reforms in healthcare sector: Yaduveer

Mysuru, Apr. 7 (PM&DM)- Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha Constituency BJP candidate Yaduveer Wadiyar has sought the support of medical professionals for bringing big reforms in the healthcare sector.

He was addressing a meeting of doctors and other medical professionals, organised by the BJP Medical Cell at a private Hotel on B.N. Road here yesterday.

"A strong health and education sector is key for the building of a prosperous society. In this backdrop, the erstwhile Mysuru rulers gave great importance for these two sectors. Now, the need of the hour is a good healthcare and in its absence, there will be huge pressure on big hospitals. As such it is important to strengthen Primary Healthcare right from the bottom", he said.

Maintaining that during the rule of the Maharajas, medical care in Mysore Province was better even that of western countries such as England and Germany, Yaduveer said this was a matter of discussion when he went to NIMHANS in Bengaluru for the inauguration of a Heritage Museum there.

"Victoria Hospital in Bengaluru, K.R. Hospital in Mysuru, Mysore Medical College, Ayurveda Medical College in Mysore and many other such medical institutions were built by the Maharajas. I have an ambition of bringing about a big level transformation in healthcare in Mysuru and Kodagu. Prime Minister Modi has given top priority for the health sector by establishing medical institutions of National importance across the country," he said.

"This apart, the Union Government is promoting Ayurveda on a big scale. Mysuru has seen a big growth in connectivity and this will help in improving health sector on a larger scale. I have plans to use the available infrastructure for integrated development of the Constituency, for which I need the support of everyone," he added.

City BJP President L. Nagendra said that there are 3,500 doctors in Mysuru city and they have the collective capacity of garnering as many as 1 lakh votes for Yaduveer. The Medical fraternity should make up its mind and support Yaduveer for their cause, he added. BJP Medical Cell Co-convenor Dr. Sadananda, Party leaders N.V. Phanish, M.V. Ravishankar, Dr. Chandrashekar, Dr. K. Ravindranath, Jeevadhara Blood Bank Director Girish and others were present.
